

Dr. Kristin Iglesias
Red Bank Vet Hospital
New Jersey

Subject DOGLEGGS

I LOVE DogLeggs! As a veterinarian at Red Bank Vet Hospital in NJ, I was very frustrated with finding a product to protect "Biwa's" elbows. Biwa Kulesa is a 9 yr old MN Mixed breed and has very sensitive elbows from years of allergies. When he developed infected hygromas that ulcerated, his elbows where so open you could see the muscle moving through the hole in the "donut" of swollen callused tissue. Antibiotics and compresses were helping, but since his mom started Dog Leggs the improvement in 1 week was amazing. His elbows are totally closed and he is much more comfortable. He could get off all the other elbow pads we tried before. Thank you so much for the information packet you sent me. I have shown it to our neurology service, the surgery service, the physical therapy team, and I am spreading the word around the other general practitioners. Actually- could you send another packet that we can keep in a general area for the technicians to see as well? I will try to get before and after photos for you the next time I recommend the product- though I hope I don't have a case as bad as Biwa's for a long time. Many thanks again for a great product, Dr Kristin Iglesias, Red Bank, NJ.